

Vision and Mission

Vision

The department of Livestock & Pasture Science is a vibrant, scientific unit of the university devoted to improving the profitability and sustainability of livestock and wildlife through better management and utilization of plant, animal and natural resources.

Mission

To enhance the profitability and environmental sustainability of livestock and wildlife by fostering interdisciplinary grassland, animal (livestock and wildlife) and environmental research and teaching through collaborative and community partnership programs.

---